VOLUME XXX*

BURKBURNETT HIGH SCHOOL BURKBURNETT, TEXAS

The past is gone;
 It's far behind me.
 It's locked behind a guarded door.
 —I knock,
 and then, at last, I see it;
 It's there behind me;
 I can feel it.
 —I long and struggle to return,
 But the past keeps drifting—backwards.

Look forward!
The future lies ahead.
The hopes and dreams of yesterday
Take seed on the road I tread.
I look—There it is!
I run towards the goals I seek,
But the distance only slowly melts;
—Tomorrow?
It may never come.

Today is here!
I look about me.
My world is slowly changing.
I feel the warmth of yesterday,
And the newness of tomorrow.

I realize now that I am here;
The past is in my mind.
The future bobs in choppy seas,
And my fate—?
It's up to me.

Cultivating Responsible Leadership

This sign is a prime example of the originality displayed by students who campaigned for office.

Pat stands before the Sophomore class to present her qualifications for the office she is seeking.

Freshman Mark Peterson seeks the backing of his classmates.

Confidently, Randy urges Juniors to elect their Vice-President.

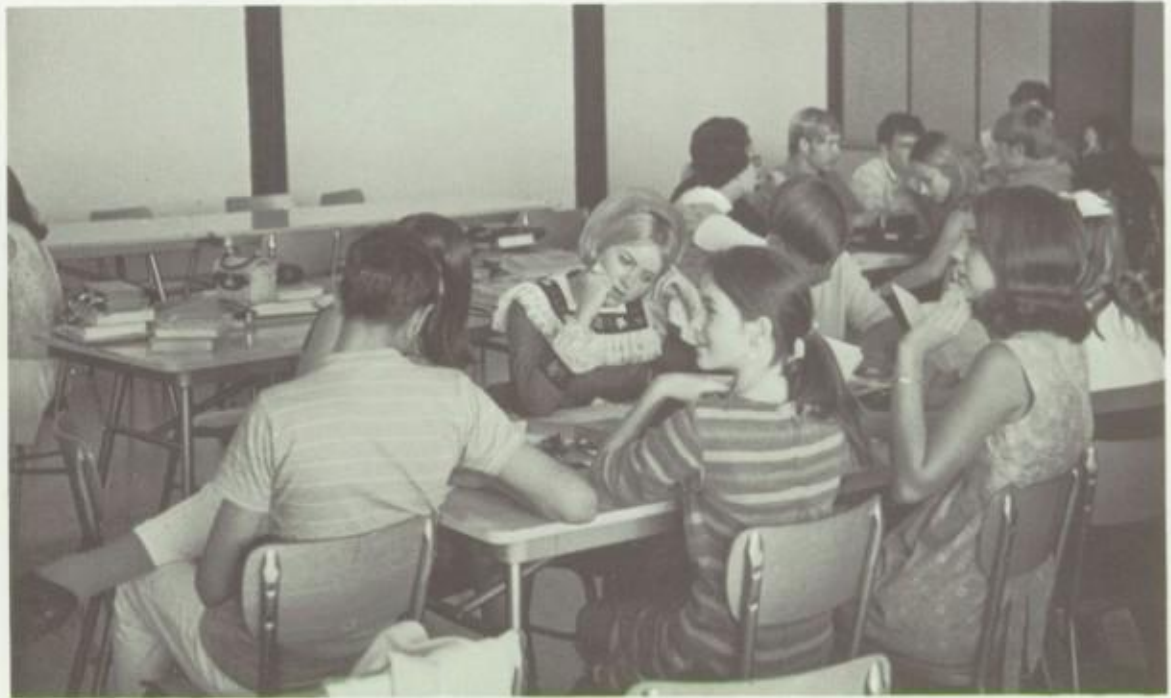

Darrell encourages Seniors to cast their votes for him.

It takes courage and ambition to campaign for an office. This year many students at B.H.S. had what it took. Even though all were not successful in their bid, the campaigns brought them closer to the real meaning of democracy.

Delving Into The Mysteries Of Drugs

In October members of the Texas Youth Council and various law enforcement agencies came to B.H.S. These officials met with a portion of the student body to answer questions about drugs and drug abuse. These students, in turn, went into the classrooms and led their fellow students in discussions concerning aspects of the drug problem.

Several students ponder a confusing point.

One group discusses the penalties involved in the abuse of drugs.

Roy leads the discussion in his group.

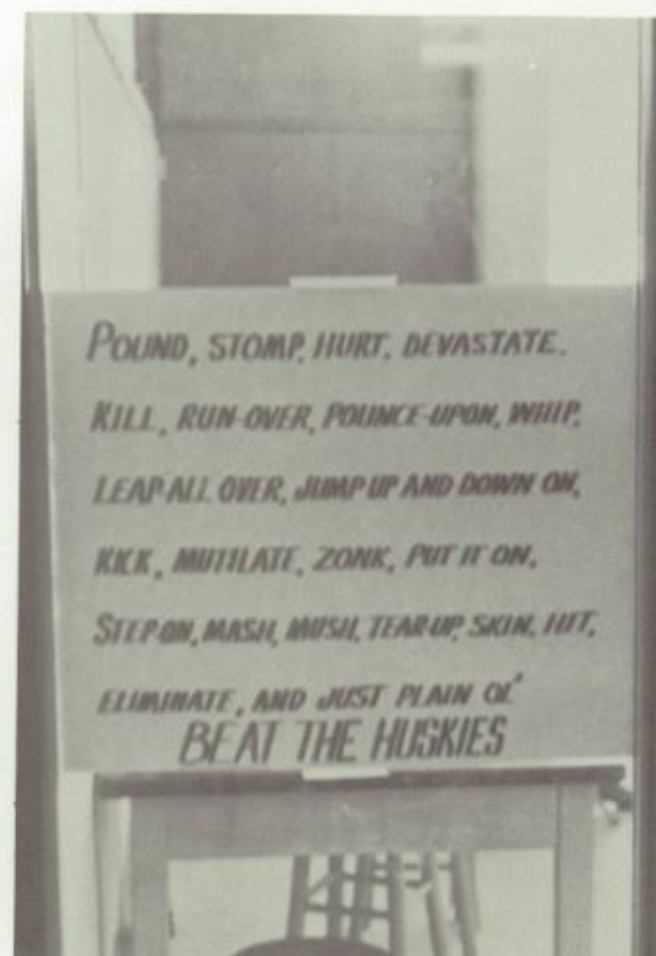

Mr. Jim Phagan, Wichita County District Attorney, answers a student's question about narcotics.

Submission In The

Bewildered Andy has lost his penny.

It is a well known fact among high school students that Seniors are superior to Freshmen. This year, as every year, at B.H.S. there was an event in which the Seniors demonstrated their superiority. They dressed the Freshmen in ridiculous costumes, complete with shaving cream and lipstick. These costumes, skits, and other acts of submission helped to make the Freshmen feel more a part of our school.

LAWTON, Okla. — "Never-say-die" determination and the talented toe of Drake Andrakes lifted the Burkburnett Bulldogs from the depths of defeat to a stunning 10-7 last-second victory over Lawton Eisenhower here Friday night.

The first time Burk has ever downed Ike's Eagles in five meetings, a victory seemed denied again this time around until Andrakes' severely angled field goal bucked a strong wind for 37 yards to turn the game around with no time left on the scoreboard clock.

With the score tied at 7-7 and just 3:15 left in the game, Burk had taken over from the hosting Eagles on the Burkburnett 23. From there, a methodical and poised drive set for Andrakes' heroics.

Hard-running Burk picked up a 100-yard drive including a tacular 27-yard cutback in the middle of the Ike defense.

A holding penalty on Burk Bulldogs back but quarterback Robble Young's pass was taken by flanker Jim Sims on an acrobatic comeback catch for a 23-yard gain to the Ike 28 yard stripe.

Sims snared another aerial for 7 yards but an incompleteness stopped the clock with just 0:04 left in the game and 'Dog coach Bill Froman called upon Andrakes for what seemed like an impossible task.

The kick soared off to the left and just slipped inside the cross bar despite a hard Eagle rush and a forceful opposing wind. The partisan crowd was stunned. The Burk stands were jubilant.

Although these members of the 1970 DERRICK Staff were unable to be pictured on our staff pages, we don't want their faithful work on the yearbook to go by unrewarded. Therefore, we want to set aside this page to recognize them and thank them for their time and their effort which they utilized for the 1970 DERRICK.

robert sturges

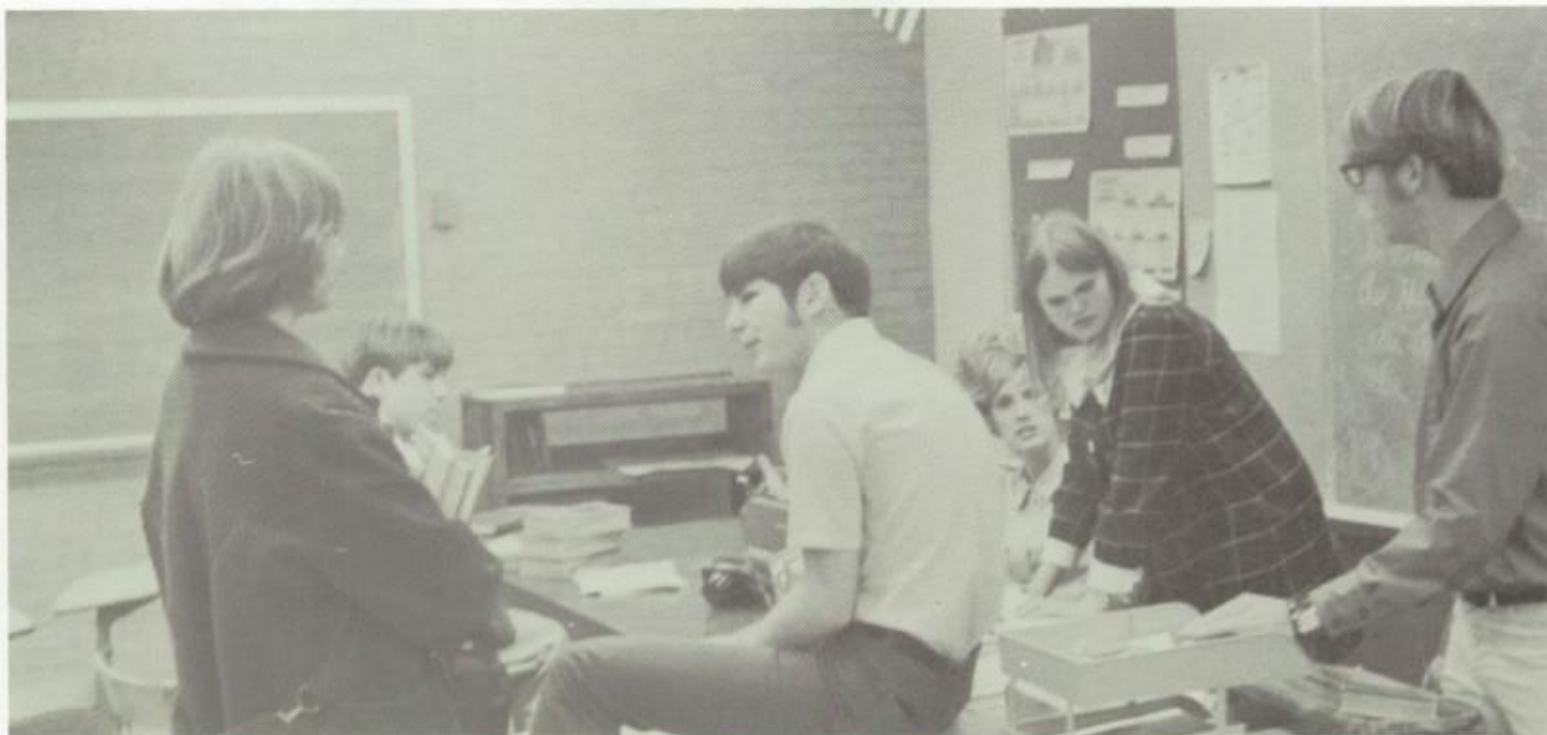

His many hours, his technical and creative abilities, and his masterful touch helped make Presentation '70 one of the biggest events of the year. Although not on the staff, his devotion to Presentation has earned him the thanks and praise of the 1970 DERRICK Staff, and they would like to make Robert Sturges an honorary member of the staff he helped so much.

The time for contemplation is past.

Speeches will no longer accomplish their goals.

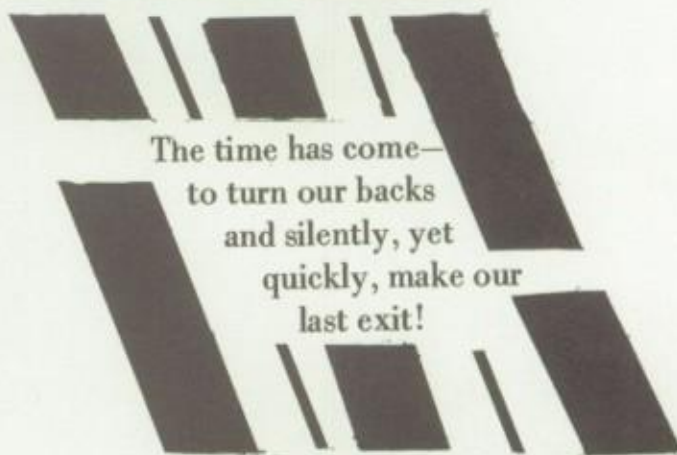

Elaborate planning will only strain minds.

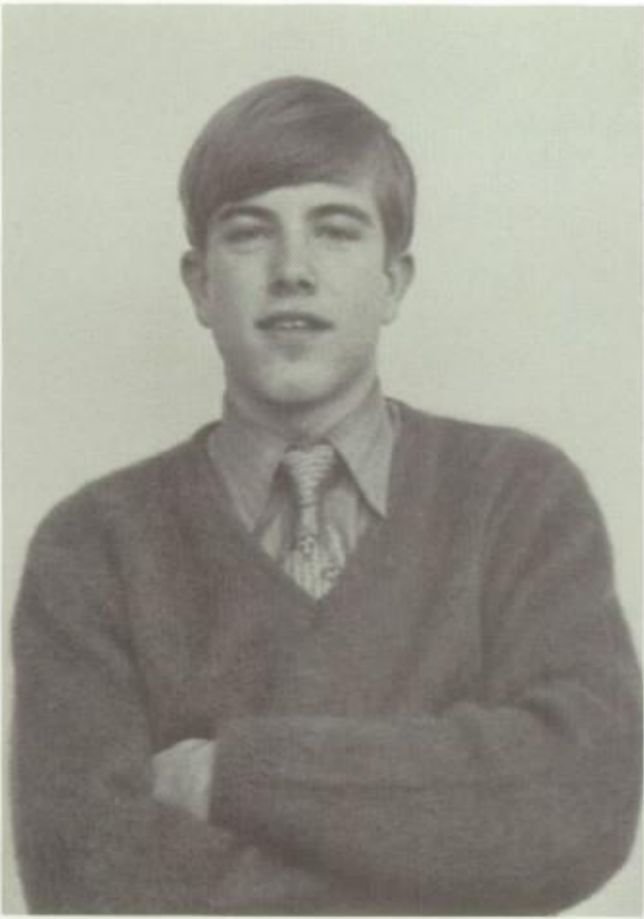

Blaming others will set off a chain reaction.

And violence will result in laughter.

The time has come—to turn our backs
and silently, yet quickly, make our last exit!

Editor-in-chief

Roy F. Hudson

Advisor

Jean McNeill

The time grows near—

Strange, but reasons for leaving create strong desires to remain. All the effort and the dedication seem useless if the bonds are to be severed.

As the end approaches—the past commences gushing forth what has been—what could have been—and what will never be. Memories—sad, happy, melancholy, and terrible, but all part of the being that will soon depart. Dreams of the future seem suddenly to be, all too quickly, and all too silently, slipping past. Then the realization of one's plight throws one into a sad, and, yet satisfied outlook. To all those who follow—whatever price must be paid for goals that we are now leaving is worth it all, and it should be paid for with happiness.

Good luck—
